RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE MUNICIPALITIES IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1892-93.

Calcutta, the 30th December 1893.

RESOLUTION—No. 4158M.

The Resolution reviewing the Divisional Commissioners' reports on the working of Municipalities during the year 1891-92.

The following Resolution reviews the reports submitted by Commissioners of Divisions on the working of Municipalities during the year 1892-93. The punctual submission of the Provincial statistics, and this is obviously impossible unless the Divisional Reports are received in good time. The delay is attributed in most cases to the non-receipt of correct and complete information from the municipalities, and steps should be taken to provide against this recurrent shortcoming. The Commissioner of Burdwan, Mr. Power, recommends that, the orders issued at various times for the preparation of the report and the statements should be embodied in the form of a manual, but the Lieutenant-Governor does not think that the orders have yet become so complicated as to render this necessary; it would probably be sufficient if the Divisional Commissioners were some time before the close of the year to draw the attention of Chairmen to the necessity for the punctual submission of reports and at the same time refer them to the various Government orders on the subject.

2. Amendment of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884.—The Government of India having accorded sanction to this measure, the Bill to amend the Bengal

Municipal Act, III of 1884, was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council in July 1892; and it was at once referred to a Select Committee, by whom numerous additions and alterations were made, some of which involved important questions of principle. It was then, in accordance with the recommendation of the Select Committee in their preliminary report, republished for general comment, both official and non-official. The opinions thus invited disclosed a good deal of opposition to certain of the provisions embodied in the Bill, on the ground that they tended to interfere with the principles of local self-government. Sir Charles Elliott took note of these objections, and as he has no wish to insist on reforms distasteful to the majority of those concerned, where the administration can be satisfactorily carried on without taking such a step, he formally withdrew, in a speech made at a meeting of the Legislative Council held towards the beginning of January 1893, some of the provisions of the Bill against which hostile criticism had chiefly been directed. The other points objected to by the public were left to the consideration of the Select Committee, to whom the opinions received were communicated. When proceedings had reached this stage the reorganisation of the Legislative Council on a mixed basis of election and nomination was in progress, and it was decided not to proceed with the Bill till the Council, and with it the Select Committee on the Bill, had been revised and enlarged. Nothing further therefore could be done before the close of the year.

3. Number of Municipalities.—The total number of municipalities in existence during the year was 146, or one more than in the previous year. This increase was due to the establishment, with effect from 1st April 1892, of a new municipality at Patuakhali in the district of Backergunge. The municipality has been included both in the first and second schedules of the Act, so that the Commissioners—nine in number—are all appointed by Government, and their Chairman also. The population of the new municipality consists of 4,885 souls, of whom 875, or 17·9 per cent., are tax-payers.

4. Population and rate-payers.—The statement in Appendix A shows the date of establishment of each municipality in the Province, the population within municipal limits, and the actual number of rate-payers in each municipality. The inhabitants of the 146 municipal towns number 2,731,182 persons, and even including Calcutta the municipal population bears a much smaller proportion* to the total population of these provinces than it does in any of the large provinces of the empire as shown by the recent census. The following table classifies by the number of their population the towns in which the Municipal Act is in force:—

5. The total number of rate-payers was 464,800, representing only 17·01 per cent. of the municipal population. The percentage varies from 34·4 in Birnagar, a small town in the Nadia district, to 8·3 in the Cuttack Municipality, which is remarkably low for so important a place, forming the head-quarters of a district and of a Division. The municipalities named in the margin, which are also the head-quarters of districts, show very low figures, and although in a certain limited number of places, of which Raniganj is an instance, the small percentage of rate-payers (9·8) may be accounted for by the presence in the town of a large number of day-labourers who pay no rates on holdings, the Lieutenant-Governor can hardly avoid the conclusion that at all events in the towns named in the margin many people who are properly liable to assessment have escaped taxation, more especially in those municipalities such as Bankura, Darbhanga, Motihari and Hazaribagh, where the personal tax is in force. The Commissioner of the Orissa Division correctly observes that it cannot be believed that there is a greater proportion of poor people in the town of Cuttack than in those of Jajpur and Kendrapara in the same district, where the percentages are 17·1 and 18·0 respectively.

6. Elective System, and results of Elections held during the year.—The system under which two-thirds of the total number of Commissioners fixed for each municipality are elected by the rate-payers is in force in 118 municipalities, whilst in 122 cases the Commissioners enjoy the privilege of electing their own Chairman. In the few remaining towns Government has reserved to itself the power of appointing the Commissioners or the Chairman as the case may be, owing either to the backwardness of the locality, or to protect the interests of the public in places where party feeling runs high. It is only in 15 municipalities that Government exercises complete control in the appointment of both Commissioners and Chairman.

7. General elections were held in the municipalities of Cossipore-Chitpur and Maniktala in the district of the 24-Parganas: all the elections were contested except in one ward of Cossipore-Chitpur. The attendance of voters ranged between 85·8 and 24·9 per cent., the average being 61·3 in the former and 29·3 in the latter municipality in every 100 of the total number of electors qualified to vote. The results of the bye-elections held during the year, as also of the general elections mentioned above, are shown in detail in the statement in Appendix B. There were in all 88 bye-elections, of which 43 were uncontested; the percentage of attendance of voters varied in the contested cases from 85·8 at Cossipore-Chitpur to 2·3 at Baduria. Two only of the bye-elections failed—one at Berhampore in consequence of the failure of the electors to nominate a candidate within the prescribed time, and the other at Cuttack owing to the non-attendance of voters. In twenty of the bye-elections only did the proportion of voters reach one-quarter of the number actually entitled to the privilege. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Presidency Commissioner in thinking that the low percentage of attendance in the majority of cases indicates that the average voter sets but little store by the privilege of the franchise, or else has very little preference for one candidate over another.

8. Constitution of Committees.—The following table shows separately for each Division, the constitution of the Committees of the municipalities it contains together with the professions or occupations of their members:—

The proportion of members of the legal profession is highest in the Chittagong, Chota Nagpur and Dacca Divisions, where it is 38·3, 35·4 and 34·9 per cent., respectively. In the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions the percentage of this class is only 20·7 and 14·9 respectively. The landholding class are best represented in the Patna Division (28·8 per cent.), the Presidency (26·2 per cent.)

Burdwan (24·2 per cent.), and Dacca (20·0 per cent.). The percentage for the whole province of officials and of Europeans respectively has varied but little, while that of merchants and money-lenders has risen nearly 2 per cent.

9. Attendance at Meetings.—The statistics regarding the number of meetings held by each municipality, the number postponed or adjourned owing to the absence of a quorum, and the average percentage of attendance of Commissioners at each meeting, have under recent orders been included in Form I, and the special table for the purpose appended to previous resolutions has been discontinued. The total number of meetings held during the year was 2,534, of which only 228, or 9 per cent., had to be adjourned. The largest number of meetings during the year in any municipality was thirty-nine, held by the Municipal Commissioners of Ranaghat, but fifteen of these meetings had to be adjourned. In Kumarkhali thirty-eight meetings were held, all of which were successful, and no adjournment was necessary. In each of the following forty-one municipalities the number of meetings held exceeded twenty :—

10. In 1891-92 thirty-seven municipalities attained this standard, against twenty in 1890-91. It is also noticeable that only fifteen municipalities (five of which are in the Presidency Division alone, and none in the Rajshahi, Chittagong, and Orissa Divisions) held less than one meeting a month, against twenty-two municipalities in the year preceding. The worst cases of default as regards the small number of meetings held are noted in the margin. The Commissioner of Burdwan reports that out of nineteen meetings held at Vishnupur and eight at Kotrang, eleven and five respectively were abortive owing to the absence of a quorum. The small number of meetings held by the Municipal Commissioners of Khulna is due to the protracted illness and death in December last of Dr. K. D. Ghose, their Chairman.

11. As regards the percentage of attendance of Commissioners at the meetings, the results compare very unfavourably with those of the previous year. It was only in eighty-six municipalities against one hundred and two in 1891-92 that the attendance was more than 50 per cent., whilst in three cases, viz., Chatra, Daltonganj, and Jhalda in the Chota Nagpur Division, the attendance reached the absurdly low figures of 8·2, 4·0, and 4·5 per cent. respectively of the total number of Commissioners. No explanation has been given of these extremely unsatisfactory results, which seem to show that there is something radically wrong with the working of the Municipal Act in these towns: the Commissioner of the Division will be asked to submit a report on the subject. By far the highest percentage of attendance was attained in the Buxar and Jagdispur Municipalities in Shahabad, where it is shown to have been 82·3 and 82·2 respectively, or 8 per cent. better than in any other town: the highest percentage of the previous year was 87·5. The lowest percentage in 1891-92 was 30·7 at Ranchi, while in the year under review no less than five municipalities have returned smaller figures. These figures show a falling off from those of the previous year, but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the fluctuation is due only to accidental causes and not to any real decline in the interest of the Commissioners in their duties.

12. Ward Committees.—The opinion of local officers appears generally unfavourable to the formation of Ward Committees, as tending to decentralize and weaken the executive power of the Chairman. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division, however, says that he has found them extremely useful as standing Sub-Committees for special enquiries and for carrying out special work. The system has been extended to very few municipalities during the year under report, and even the plan recommended in the Resolution of 1891-92 of issuing to the Commissioners counterfoil books for reporting to the Chairman irregularities brought to their notice does not appear to have been generally adopted. The Lieutenant-Governor desires again to commend the subject to the attention of Municipal Commissioners, for even where regular Ward Committees have not been constituted with the full powers contemplated by the Act they can be very usefully employed in the manner and to the extent indicated by Mr. Westmacott.

13. Assessments.—The statement in Appendix C shows the mode of assessment prevailing in each municipality

The legal maximum for these two municipalities is 10 per cent. on the annual value of holdings.

in the province, i.e., whether it is a rate on holdings or a tax on persons according to their circumstances and property within municipal limits, the percentage at which the tax was levied, and the result of any revision of assessment made during the year. As in the previous year, the rate on holdings was in force in thirty-six municipalities, and it was levied below the legal maximum (which is, with two exceptions, 7½ per cent. on the annual value of holdings) in the twelve towns mentioned in the margin. It is
